

Cellbox Solutions GmbH is a young technology company focusing on new innovative solutions for the global BioTech industry. The company, founded in 2016, is a spin-off of Fraunhofer Research Institution for Marine Biotechnology and Cell Technology in Lübeck. We're aiming at improving the lives of others by providing innovative and new cell logistic solutions for the correct handling of living cells and biologic structures. To support our team in Hamburg we're currently looking for a

Marketing Assistant in fulltime

YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Assist in organization of global events and conferences including planning, coordinating and execution
- Assist in the compiling and design of printed / electronic materials (Marketing presentations/resources, event materials, branded materials, etc.)
- Gather information and organize written content/data in a clear, concise manner
- Assist with photography and video projects
- Various other duties and assigned

WHAT YOU'RE OFFERING:

- Degree in Marketing, Business Administration or similar, training as Media Designer or equivalent work experience
- First experience in Marketing and Communications
- Familiar with Adobe products and other design software applications
- A creative head with positive and can-do attitude, flexible and very adaptive to changing demands, requests and priorities
- Fluent English and German language skills required

WHAT WE'RE OFFERING:

- The opportunity to assist in shaping and building a promising and growing technology brand company
- Permanent contract
- Motivated and experienced team, flat hierarchies
- Office in the heart of Hamburg, sports facilities and fresh fruit

INTERESTED?

Drop your application at office@cellbox-solutions.com.
In case you have questions get in touch with Birte Przybyl at +49 40 226316410.
We're looking forward to receiving your application.